

Community Safety

The National Youth Agency provides bespoke consultancy and support in developing effective approaches to reducing crime and disorder, anti social behaviour and improving community safety by involving young people in planning and delivering strategic and operational priorities.

For the past three years we have been commissioned by West Midlands Police Authority. Warwickshire Police Authority has asked us to undertake similar work in 2010.

We are a market leader in this field with a unique and proven record in youth crime consultation.

11 Million, in recognition of our work in this area, has asked us to undertake similar consultation with young people to inform its forthcoming three year youth justice plan.

Benefits

- Opportunity to strengthen consultation with hard to reach/hard to hear groups of young people.
- Assists Police Authorities, required to consult annually on strategic planning processes.
- Assists with 'public confidence' force targets.
- Assists the prevention of young people's crime, thereby addressing mainstreaming requirements of Section 17, 1998 Crime and Disorder Act.
- Adaptable across the Police Service Sector, both at a strategic level and also neighbourhood level.
- Cost effective knowledge transfer via NYA support of designated staff members who can receive training and coaching support in order to integrate this activity into existing job roles.
- Excellent contacts with local organisations.
- Linkages into a wider knowledge exchange and network.
